LIBRARY NOTES

Among the recent additions to the Memorial Hall Library are the following books:

"Captain Paul" (Ellsberg): A long, exciting story of John Paul Jones, with a thrilling sea background and the dramatic setting of the early American navy.

"Glencannon Afloat" (Gilpatric): The self-effacing bibulous hero of Saturday Evening Post fame presents himself in a new sea-faring epic.

Of interest to workers for defense: Audel's, "Machinists and Tool-makers Handy Book"; "Airplane Welding and Materials" (Johnson); "The Aviation Mechanic."

"What I Believe" (Asch): The author of the Nazarene, an interpretation of the life of Christ as given by a Jewish writer, outlines the history of Judaism and Christianity.

"Arsenic and Old Lace: a Comedy" (Kesselring): The gentle art of murder under refined circumstances. The play is admittedly one of the funniest presented in New York.

For those who like to do things: "Holiday Cards for You to Make" (Ackley); "The Silk Screen Printing Process" (Biegeleisen); "Complete Book Of Garden Magic" (Biles); "Motor's Factory Shop Manual"; "Garden Clubs and Spades" (McKinney); "The Theatre Handbook" (Sobel).

"Japan Unmasked" (Abend): The New York Times' correspondent believes we should go to war with Japan at once, and he surveys the situation with brilliance, honesty and clarity.

"A Diabetic Manual for the Mutual use of Doctor and Patient" (Joslin): An authoritative handbook.

Books for parents: "Feeding Our Old-fashioned Children" (Aldrich); "Your Child's Development and Guidance Told in Pictures" (Meek); "Children Are People" (Post); "Children in the Family" (Powdermaker and Grimes); "The Opening Doors of Childhood" (Sherrill).

"A House for Emily" (Reeves): A pleasant and worthwhile story of a young couple who postpone owning a house until the family is grown, then find that the plan of possession was more important than the realization of it.

For the mystery readers: "Drink to Yesterday" (Coles); "Good Night, Sheriff" (Stevens); "Head Over Heels in Murder" (Shriber); "A Toast to Tomorrow" (Coles).

THE AN

Soap Bubble Contest At Playground

An exceptionally heavy attendance has been reported at all three playgrounds, with more than the usual number of pre-school children. Even before the equipment went up the registration was very heavy, and on Monday and Tuesday of this week with all the apparatus in readiness the children flocked in almost unprecedented numbers to the playgrounds.

Tomorrow night at 7:30 at all playgrounds the first special activity program of the season will take place in the form of soap bubble contests. Last Thursday night the children enjoyed flag wind-up and couple races.

Handwork has started this week and will be going full speed by next week.

James Bisset, who has been ill, has returned to work and is at the central playground.

Through the co-operation of the Memorial Hall library Miss Sally Ballard of the library staff will be at each of the playgrounds one day each week to facilitate the distribution of library books. She will be at Shawsheen on Mondays, at Ballardvale on Tuesdays, and at the Central on Wednesday, from 2:15 to 3:15.

The playground softball league will get under way next week, with teams from all three playgrounds participating.

The sixth annual picnic will be held July 22 at Canobie lake park. Tickets will go on sale Tuesday.

Seek Homes For Refugees For Summer

A request has been received from the New England Christian Committee for Refugees for help in placing a number of refugee children, chiefly German and Austrian, for at least a part of the summer. If any families in Andover are willing to help defeat Hitler by giving refuge for a few weeks to one of these victims of his oppression, please notify Rev. Donald H. Savage, 185 Lowell street.

Water Situation Still A Problem

Andover's water situation still continues to be a problem, although the ban on lawn sprinkler use has eliminated any danger of reservoir depletion. The ban will continue until we have a rainy spell of two or three days, it is expected.

The local plant which has been consuming so much water was still taking this morning a million gallons more than it will be allowed when the new million gallon restriction goes into effect next week. Other pumps and equipment are being installed in the plant, however, to meet the new requirement.

Dufton Elevated To Regular Force

Andover's newest regular police officer is George F. Dufton of Burnham road, a graduate of Punchard high and of Bowdoin college. He was appointed by the selectmen Monday night, after he had been certified by the Civil Service Commission. He was at the head of the list, with George Waldie and Joseph O'Brien following in that order.

Officer Dufton will fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Sergeant Saunders. An examination for promotion to the serjeancy is to be held shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Cole and daughter Constance enjoyed a week-end vacation at Harwich on the Cape.

To Stage "The Mikado" At Amphitheater On Porter Road

Horace N. Killam, supervisor of music in the schools of Georgetown, Groveland and Middleton and organist and choirmaster at the First Church of Christ, Bradford, will conduct several performances of "The Mikado" by Gilbert and Sullivan at the Opera Garden, an outdoor amphitheatre at his home on Porter road, the last week in August.

A cast is being selected of singers from his high schools and others. There is still room for more singers in the chorus, and any Andover singers interested should communicate with Mr. Killam (tel. 938-M) before Monday evening, July 14, when the first chorus rehearsal will be held at his home on Porter road.

Mr. Killam is on leave of absence this year from the Boxford Oratorio Society which he has directed in annual outdoor concerts for the past eighteen years.

Police Blotter

—Last Thursday afternoon Harold Ness of Center street drove his car into a tree near the cemetery on Lupine road. Harold Dawes suffered a cut on the leg. The car was badly damaged, and it was reported that the steering gear had not been functioning correctly.

—Andover still is no place for strikers. Police policy shoos off all picketers, truck stoppers, etc., and bakery truck drivers found this week they were no exception.

DEATHS

Death took no holiday in Andover this week, its hand reaching out to take an unusually large number of well-known residents.

Last Thursday evening at 4 Chapman avenue Charles A. Hanson succumbed to a long illness. A native of Newcastle, N. H., he had lived in Andover for 22 years, being employed as a painter.

Unable to be at the bedside was one of his sons, Joseph, who is with the Air Corps in the Canal Zone. Other survivors are Mrs. Hanson (Vina Willette); two daughters, Mrs. Mary St. Jean of Lawrence and Rita Hanson of Andover; three other sons, Charles, Wilfred and Henry of this town; his mother, Mrs. Martha Hanson; and two brothers, Basil Keniston of Epping, N. H., and Albert Keniston of Newmarket, N. H.

Funeral services were held Monday with Rev. Elton E. Smith of the Baptist church officiating. Burial was in Spring Grove cemetery.

John A. Swenson was well-known here, having been a prominent resident for over half a century. He had been ill for a short time, and on Monday evening following an operation he passed away at the Lawrence General Hospital.

Mr. Swenson was born in Sweden 63 years ago. For many years he was employed at the Marland mills as a spinner. He was a member of St. Matthew's lodge, the Square and Compass Club and the Knights of Pythias.

Mrs. Swenson (Sigrid Anderson) survives, with three sons, Arthur of Rutherford, N. J., Harold of Medford, and Albert of New Britain, Conn.; and six daughters, Mrs. Eleanor Chiras of Teaneck, N. J., Mrs. Anne Pratley of Watertown, Mrs. Dorothy Wadman of Medford, and from Andover: Mrs. Ruth Shaw, Mrs. Florence Urban and Miss Constance Swenson.

There are several grandchildren, and on Tuesday morning, a few short hours after Mr. Swenson's death, another grandson came in to the world at the Lawrence General Hospital. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Swenson of New Britain.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon by Rev. Albert C. Morris, interment following in Spring Grove cemetery.

In Candia, N. H., on Saturday, George T. Hall, a former resident, passed away. His wife, Mrs. Emma Hall, survives, with a son, Raymond, of Andover. Funeral services were held Tuesday in Candia.

On Sunday three local residents passed away. Mrs. Bethea P. Miller, Nelson G. Herrick, and Miss Florence E. Anderson.

Mrs. Bethea P. Miller was born 83 years ago in Kilmarnock, Scotland, and until twelve years ago when she came to Andover, she had lived the greater part of her life in New York city. She was taken ill Saturday afternoon at her home, 24 Florence street, and the next morning passed away.

She leaves three daughters, Mrs. Edmond E. Hammond of Porter road; Mrs. Janet McCrae of Several Auto Crashes On Fourth Of July

It would have been a pretty safe and sane Fourth in Andover were it not for automobile accidents, and you can't blame Andover for that, because the three accidents were all connected with out-of-town cars.

A North Reading car ploughed into another car on Route 28 near the Phillips Academy campus Friday morning. Two Belmont women were injured and were taken to the Lawrence General hospital;
the driver, believed to have dozed after having worked a good part of the night, suffered knee injuries.
The two wrecked cars managed to create a sizeable traffic jam, since traffic was very heavy most of the holiday.

An accident at 5:45 a.m. is also believed to have been caused by a sleepy driver. It happened on North Main street just out of the square.

The driver, a Winchester man, is reported to have crashed into a parked sedan owned by Edward Vannett of 6 North Main street, and a beach wagon owned by John
M. Caldwell of 2 North Main street.
The driver and three passengers were treated at the Lawrence General hospital.

A quarter of an hour after this happened four persons were injured when, according to reports, their car was forced off the road on Dascomb road by a large black sedan. Three Haverhill and one Belmont person were treated by a physician for cuts and lacerations.

The hit-and-run car forced the other car into the soft shoulder whence it hit a boulder and then a stone wall near Walter Curtis' home.

WHAT A STATE!

It's illegal in Massachusetts to light off five-inch firecrackers; it's plain crazy in any state to light one off in your mouth. The man who did it in Ballardvale last Friday was in a state of inebriacy, however. He has two teeth less now, and a badly burned mouth.

Bang-up Fourth In Ballardvale

(See Front Cover)

Police were kept busy on the Fourth and the Night Before taking care of the traffic jam in Ballardvale. Cars from all around flocked to the Vale, and for a good reason, many good reasons. The Ballardvalians had promised a bang-up Fourth celebration, and bang-up it was. They more than kept their promise. From the band concert on Thursday night to the block-dancing on Friday night, there was something doing practically every minute, allowing time out for forty winks—and don't fool yourself, they don't take in the sidewalks down there; after seeing that celebration, a lot of people might suspect that the Andover centerites are the ones that take in the walks.

The midnight bonfire, one of the largest in years, brought crowds from many of the surrounding towns. Much of the credit for its success belongs to Ralph Greenwood, chairman. Greenwood usually isn't too good on a bonfire, but Ralph was.

The horribles parade—that's part of it on the front cover—started the morning events. Led by a motorcycle escort and the fire chief, the parade toured the Vale, with the Andover Brass band providing the music.

The participants included: 1918 touring car, Mr. Gray at the wheel; float, "America," owned by Edward Nolin, with his three boys, Raymond, Robert and Richard in uniform; "Old Faithful," automobile; The Bumsteads, Joan O'Brien and Salley Kelley; real Americans, William Shaw and Ann Morton; Gasless Sunday, Mrs. James Morton and Mrs. Clarence Shaw; Indian, Val Robbins (see cover); Gasless Sunday, Eva Muise and Mrs. George Henderson; tramp, Ralph Greenwood; most horrible automobile, Mrs. Shultz, Mrs. Timothy Haggerty and Mrs. Frank Haggerty; typical Vale family, John Miller, Wallace Ferris and Jack Sweeney; Byron Brown as James Oldroyd, fire lieutenant; Ballardvale Paddy Wagon, Stanley Palenski and Jack Haggerty; police crime broadcast; Edward Doyle and Philip Webb; Andover police on a wild goose chase, Mrs. James Schofield; Minnie Mouse, Eileen Tisbert.

The winners were: Byron Brown, first; John Miller, Wallace Ferris and Jack Sweeney, second; Eileen Tisbert as Minnie Mouse was third.

Most horrible: Buster Haggerty, Mr. and Mrs. Shultz, Mrs. Tim Haggerty and Mrs. Frank Haggerty, won first; Stanley and Eddie Palenski, Jack and Frank Haggerty, second; Ralph Greenwood, third.

Most original: Edward Nolin and three sons and Peter Bisset, first; second, Mrs. James Morton and Mrs. Clarence Shaw; third, Mrs. George Henderson and Mrs. Eva Muise.

Following the horribles, a baseball game was played with the Harmony Club defeating the Vale Cubs 6 to 3. In the early afternoon a four-mile race was held from Wilson's corner, the winners being Alex Pierson of Lowell, Jack Kelley of Andover, A. Daniels of Wilmington, and John Miller of the Vale in that order.

A vehicle parade was held in the afternoon, with the winners as follows:

Uncle Sam defense float, Carlton Brown, first; tank, William Shaw, second. In the doll carriage parade, Carol Robbins was the winner and Jane Jedrey second.

The land sports winners were: 50-yard race for boys 12 and under, Wallace Ferris and John Petty; 50-yard race for boys 15 and over, Chester Jenkins and L. Pitman; 50-yard race for girls 12 and under, Mary Columbusian and Clara Campbell; 50-yard dash for girls 15 and under, Crystal Corney and Irene Fitzpatrick; 50-yard dash for girls 16 and over, Katherine Sheehy and Dorothy Campbell; 100-yard dash for boys 16 and over, Ralph Lakin and Chester Jenkins; two-legged race for boys 12 and under, won by Allen Petty and Wallace Ferris; second, Hilton Corney and Harold Fall; potato race for boys 12 and under, first, David Vannett; second, George Partridge, first heat; potato race for boys 12 and under, second heat, Wallace Ferris and Allen Petty; potato race for girls 12 and under, first, Clara Campbell and Mary Columbusian; potato race for boys 15 and under, first, Chester Jenkins; second, Wilfred LeMay; married ladies race, Mrs. Val Robbins and Mrs. James Butler; married men's race, James Bisset, first; A. Daniels, second.

Three-legged race for boys 16 and under, Alfred Lemay and Wilfred LeMay; second, Edwin Stevens and George Duke; boys' race under 6 years, Norman Lemay and John Ness; girls' race under 6 years, Martha Seymore and Alice LeMay; shoe race, Miss Sheehy and Eddie Valentine; pie eating contest with 30 entries, David and Andrew Vannett.

The water sports winners were:

Canoe race, first, John Townsend and Robert Lawrence; second, Earl Townsend and Gardner Townsend; swimming race for boys 15 and under, first, Robert Lawrence; swimming race for boys over 16 years, Arthur Edmunds and Roy Early; swimming race for girls 16 and over, Dorothy Campbell; second, Ann Zell; canoe filling contest, first heat won by Earl and Gardner Townsend; second heat, Andrew Townsend and Robert Harris; final, Earl and Gardner Townsend, winners.

Tilting contest: First heat, won by James Sparks and Walter Davis. Second heat won by Earl and Gardner Townsend. Final won by James Sparks and Walter Davis.

Derry Police Cast Longing Eyes At Andover Shirts

Seems as though you just can't buy anything to wear these days but somebody else comes along and wants to have something exactly like it. On Memorial day the Andover police force blossomed forth with new two-tone blue shirts, and up in Derry, N. H., Monday night the policemen decided they wanted new shirts too. The Andover police department was held up as a shining example because of the "snappy appearance" of the new shirts.

However, things are at a standstill. A motion to purchase the shirts out of the relief fund was killed.

CORRECTION

Anybody who pays their water bills on the basis of the rate published in last week's Townsman would go broke in a hurry. Instead of "nine cents per cubic foot" it should have read "nine cents per hundred cubic feet."

WEDDINGS

Park-Siddall

In St. James' Methodist church, Manchester, N. H., last Friday afternoon, Miss Mildred H. Siddall of Manchester became the bride of Carl S. Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl P. Park of George street, Shawsheen village. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Otis Beach.

The bride's sister, Miss Ruth Siddall, was maid of honor, and Raymond Snell of Boston was best man.

Mr. Park is co-operator of the Granite State Airways in Manchester. He is an experienced aviator.

Ballardvale Sets

A Community Example

We really can take our hats off to Ballardvale, and even take a lesson from the Fourth of July observance. Up here in Andover some don't consider Ballardvale with the respect that it demands, and if any of those doubters attended the Fourth celebration, they would realize that they owed the little community a sincere apology.

And that's what it is: a community—a real honest-to-goodness community in the very deepest sense of the word. Andover's a community, too, but unfortunately, the use of the word in connection with the center of the town is merely a geographical term. We have a community pride, but we don't do much except pat ourselves on the back about it. We up here can't seem to put on the show that Ballardvale put on last week; it just doesn't seem to be in us. We love Andover; we think it's a grand town; but we are content to just relax in those thoughts and let Andover by itself go on being a grand town.

In Ballardvale it's different; they get out and do things down there. They do things together, and therein lies real community spirit. Up here in Andover if one group is running something another group won't support it, and some of us are just too good to support anything. It would be beneath us to get out and go to a Fourth of July celebration; we couldn't unbend.

In Ballardvale they don't mind unbending. They're neighbors, and they're intent on seeing that anything their little community does is done right. They work like fury to put the thing across, and it isn't a question of who gets the credit: they want Ballardvale to get the credit.

If the Vale can do it, why can't the town? If Shawsheen village can gather together a real live Parent-Teacher association in which most of the parents take part, why can't Andover? If the Grange up in West Parish can be the locale of so much real community spirit, why can't we stuffed shirts here in the center of the town find some common interest? Indifference and community spirit just can't go together, and it's not really being smart and high-and-mighty to be indifferent.

When 1946 comes, we're all going to have to get together to see

For the Ladies Only

While attending the National Convention of Retail Grocers in Chicago last month, we came across a book telling about good food. The articles appearing in it were written by the chefs of the finest eating places in the United States and Canada. These master cooks have willingly agreed to supply the publishers of this book each month with timely menus and recipes for which their hotel, restaurant or transportation sys- tem has become famous. The Good Food Publishing Company is publishing each month these menus and recipes in book form. In our opinion they have produced the best book on how to prepare food we have ever seen. Any lady may have one of these fine books just for the asking.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Slate and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lacombe have returned from a very enjoyable trip through the White Mountains.

Elmer Johnson, who has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Ebba Peterson of Greenwood road, has returned to his home in Norfolk.

Miss Doris Newton, Miss Evelyn Parker, Miss Nancy Hird and Miss Madeline Creamer left Monday on a 10,000 mile auto trip to California and through parts of Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. William Trow and Charlotte of Lowell street enjoyed the week-end at Goose Rock, Biddeford, Me.

News Of Old Andover

50 YEARS AGO...It rained early on the morning of the Fourth and traveling was difficult because of the mud; however, the sun did come out later in the day and at night a huge bonfire in Elm Square closed the festivities...At a picnic of the Lowell police at Haggetts Pond, a Lowell man was arrested and charged with keeping liquor with intent to sell. He was disposing of an article from bottles labelled Birch Beer. Chief of Police Cheever had reason to believe that something stronger was being sold and he made a seizure of the birch. It was found to be lager beer.

25 YEARS AGO...Mrs. Frank A. Buttrick and family of Wolcott Avenue and Miss Alice S. Coutts were vacationing at the Andover-Lawrence Cottage, York Beach, Maine...Friends of Rose Markey gathered at her home on Pearson Street in honor of her eleventh birthday. Among those present were: Mary Donovan, Jessie Cairnie, Elizabeth Holden, Jessie Monroe, Elizabeth Dyer, Margaret Ronan, Margaret Barrett, Jane Baxter, Angeline McCarthy, Thomas Stack, John Baxter, William Baxter, James Ronan, Leonard Ronan, Frederick Barrett, Edward Henderson, William Dolan and Walter Markey

...Robert Deyermond of Whittier Street left the employ of the Tyer Rubber Co. and accepted a position in North Reading...Plans were made by the employees of the Tyer Rubber Company for their annual picnic to be held at Nantasket Beach.

10 YEARS AGO...The John Dove Vacation Church school for summer instruction was started under the auspices of the South Church, Free Church, Christ Church, St. Augustine's Church, and Baptist Church, with 133 students enrolling. The school was in charge of Mrs. E. Taber McFarlin, aided by Miss Caroline Abbott and Mrs. Lorentz I. Hansen...The Andover Legion bugle and drum corps organized with the officers being: Robert Christie, president; John Anderson, manager; Austin M. Reed, secretary; and John H. Long, treasurer.

Pollard's .. Lowell .. Great Store-Wide Goodwill Sale

The Greatest Money-Saving Event of the Season

Thursday
Friday
Saturday 9 to 9
Savings of 20% to 50%

The letter which appears in this advertisement is self-explanatory... it tells you exactly why we did not have a twenty per cent cash and carry sale this season.

BUT if you want to save more than twenty per cent on many articles... this GOODWILL SALE is just what you have been waiting for.

YOU MAY CHARGE
YOU MAY BUDGET
HAVE YOUR PURCHASE SENT
C. O. D. AND STILL SAVE FROM 20% to 50%.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS
IN LOWELL AND THE MERRIMACK VALLEY:

Because of the increased cost of merchandise from manufacturers, uncertain market conditions, shortages of materials, and slow deliveries, we deem it wise to eliminate our 20% Cash and Carry Sale this year.

But — in appreciation of your valued patronage which made it possible for us to have such a splendid season, we feel we OWE it to you to run a GOODWILL SALE that will excel by far our former 20% Sales.

You may wonder how we can allow you 20%, 33 1-3%, and in some cases 50% now in THIS Goodwill Sale when we are discontinuing this regular 20% Cash and Carry Sale. May we explain?

If we were to allow an unlimited selection of merchandise which we now own and have in the store, such as refrigerators, steel products, aluminum ware, men's work clothes and other allied lines to the defense program either directly or indirectly, we would deplete our stocks of regular merchandise. Prices have already increased and will continue to rise, so it would cost us much more to replace the merchandise and the next time you wanted that particular article you, too, would have to pay more.

We are really PROTECTING YOU, our friends, by maintaining our regular stocks at their present low prices THROUGHOUT THE COMING MONTHS, rather than staging a sale for a few days, depleting our stocks of certain lines, then you would have to pay much more for these items a month from now.

Discounts of 20%, 33 1-3% and in some cases 50% on our SPECIAL SALE MERCHANDISE are possible because we already own surpluses of many items, or because manufacturers have made special price concessions to us.

Another advantage of this GOODWILL SALE is that you won't have to pay cash in order to reap the benefit of the discount. Yes, you may charge to your heart's content—and budgets and coupons are acceptable too.

We honestly believe that this, our first GOODWILL SALE, will be more beneficial to YOU in the long run.

Very truly yours,

A. G. POLLARD CO.
